MISSOULA--

Debra Kaye Erickson, Sidney, a junior in home economics at the University of Montana in Missoula, will compete for the title, "Outstanding Angel Flight Commander of the Nation," Tuesday through Saturday, March 18-22, in Louisville, Ky., during Angel Flight's National Conclave.

Miss Erickson, 21, formerly of Hardin, won the right to compete in the national competition when she was named "Outstanding Angel Flight Commander of the Northwest Area" during the Northwest Area Conclave of the Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight Feb. 1-2 at Big Sky, south of Bozeman. Besides Montana, the northwest area includes the states of Idaho, Oregon and Washington.

Angel Flight is a coed organization associated with the Arnold Air Society to promote Air Force ROTC through contact with the community in service projects and exhibitions. Arnold Air Society, composed AFROTC cadets, is designed to promote understanding of the Air Force aerospace role.

Miss Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Erickson, 412--6th Ave. N.E., Sidney, is a May 1972 graduate of Hardin High School, Hardin.
